GO! weekend

Good skates, all!

You don't have to skate if you want to grab a board for a good cause today at Milk Gallery (450 W. 15th St., near 10th Ave.). In fact, these skateboard decks are too interesting to use in your search for the perfect concrete wave. Style Sessions and artist William Quigley arranged for celebs—50 Cent, Andy Dick, Shaquille O'Neal and Robin Williams among them—to design boards to benefit nonprofit

Boarding for Breast Cancer. B4BC's goal is to increase awareness about the disease, the importance of early detection and the value of a healthy lifestyle. Here, Clayton Janer checks out several boards, including ones by artists Stacy Peralta (below, c.) and Hazel Dooney (seen in detail, r.). The one that looks like a TV test pattern (l.) is an original Galinsky, dude.
